

Spring Nature Classes with the Palouse-Clearwater Environmental Institute

PCEI invites 2nd through 5th graders to attend our nature classes. Spend time exploring the Palouse region's natural history through engaging field trips, hands-on activities, crafts, games, and scientific investigations! We'll pick kids up from school, and parent pick up time will be 5:30pm from our nature center at 1040 Rodeo Dr.

Bountiful Biomes: February 4th, 6th, 11th, 13th, 18th, 20th 25th & 27th

Voyage across deserts and dive into the seas, soar above forests and climb in the trees! This month we'll be exploring life in the major biomes of the world, paying particular attention to migratory animals that call vastly different environments home throughout their lives. Pack your arctic jacket, scuba gear, and bug spray, it'll be a wild month. Cost: $120

Our Weather and Climate Today!: March 6th, 11th, 13th, 25th & 27th

Let's tap into our inner meteorologist as we investigate the local weather patterns and world climate! Where do storms come from? What causes our seasons? How can we alter something as big as our climate? These questions and many more will be answered through a variety of exploratory activities, which even includes setting up our own weather station! Cost: $75

Mad Scientist: April 1st, 3rd, 8th, 10th, 15th, 17th, 22nd, 24th & 29th

Bubble, fizz, pop and plop your way to a better understanding of our world full of mad science. Let's join our curiosities with the scientific method and take action! We'll turn the nature center into a science lab as we make discoveries through hands-on experiments and imaginative artistic explorations.

Cost: $135
